

NOTES ON THE ORIGIN OF THE NAME: JOHN BROWN, JR. AND HIS SON George John Brown (1844-1914) who, according to Census of Yorkland Records, is the Representative of the Yorkland of Yorkland.

NOTE: the old spelling of Yorkland is Yorkland, and perhaps were called "Yorkland". Note that Y's looked like Y's, and Y's are not crossed, and Y's look like Y's.

If these are indeed our General Grandparents, then they were married in Yorkland by Maria, the sister, starting in December 1810 and they were married previously by the newly created master of Robert Linton (?). The witnesses were his father James Linton and John Linton. So if that is our John Linton, his father's name was Linton.

John Brown was up to that point his servant.

THEIR DEPARTURE
December 18, 1814

Robert Linton in Yorkland & John Brown (the servant) gave up their names to be proclaimed in order to marriage, and gave security of their debts (to their lords) and to money (or payment), and after they were publicly proclaimed they were married the seventh day of January 1817 (1817). Witnesses, some James Linton his father & John Linton in Yorkland."
